CAPITOLA, CALIFORNIA

Oct. 1st, 1954.

The enclosed offer on gladiolus and dahlias supplements our regular trade list which you have already received. If you have misplaced your copy we will be glad to send another.

A good stock of most Fall bulbs is still available at both our Capitola and Seattle warehouses. Ranunculus, anemones and phlox have just arrived. Peonies and bleeding hearts will soon be on hand. Hyacinths, Soleil d'Or and several other things are rapidly becoming scarce.

Tuberous begonias, yellow callas and other crops still in the fields look very good, and we will welcome your orders.
